

[Note: This transcript is based mainly on a register, designated 2888/1/3 by the Surrey Record Office, which runs from 1653 to 1695. It is notionally duplicated from 1653 to 1666 by a second register, designated 2888/1/4 (which may have been the register introduced for the new marriage procedures from 1653), and from 1665 to 1678 by resumed entries in 2888/1/2. Variations from 2888/1/3 are indicated in square brackets.]
