

regretted that they “cannot recompense it as is meet wee should.” A different William Andrews, “a poore man home the Lord hath bene pleased to veset with a distemper: a fluckes and loosnes: one yeare and 7 months for the most part,” requested Winthrop to send him some medicine, or “if you would have me com to you if the Lord enable me I pray ser let me understand your mind in it.” Elizur Holyoke of Hartford didn’t ask. He sent his wife and son to New London with a note saying he did not doubt Winthrop’s concern for his son’s

Footnote

1653, 260, William Andrews of New Haven to John Winthrop, Jr., Mar. 24, 1653, 272–273. Elizur Holyoke to John Winthrop, Jr., Mar. 2, 1654, 301.