~MY ANCESTOR~

WILLIAM PECK was a merchant in London and it is believed that he came to America with his wife, ELIZABETH, and young son, JEREMIAH, on the good ship HECTOR, arriving in Boston on June 26, 1637. He was probably part of the Eaton-Davenport Company who migrated to New Haven in 1638/39. He signed the Fundamental Agreement of Quinnipiack in 1639 and became a freeman on October 29, 1640 in New Haven. From 1659 to his death, he was a deacon of the First Church of New Haven. His homelot was on George Street. Although his estate showed that he was not wealthy, he was highly respected.

He was one of three who inventoried the estate of Sgt. Thomas Jeffrie in 1661. In December of 1662, at a town meeting in New Haven, Deacon Peck informed those present that the town "elders" were not getting enough to eat -- that there was not enough wheat & malt to go around.

Deacon William Peck & another ancestor, ROGER ALLING, were appointed a Committee of Trustees for a trust that totalled £918 being authorized to direct the affairs of the Collegiate Grammar School in New Haven.

After Elizabeth's death in 1683, he married Sarah, widow of William Holt around 1684. While visiting his son, JOSEPH, in Lyme, he died in 1694. Lyme Vital Records gave his age at death as 93, while New Haven record says 90 years. However, his tombstone gives his age at death as 93 years.

Deacon William was probably brothers with Henry Peck who also settled in New Haven, and my ancestor, JOSEPH PECK, who was in New Haven for a time but removed to Milford.

Both of my parents were descendants of Deacon William Peck, and I am descended from two of his children: REV. JEREMIAH PECK (through my mother) and DEACON JOSEPH PECK (through my mother & father).

Other reported children: John Peck, Elizabeth (Peck) Andrews, Eleazer Peck, Benjamin Peck

~MY ANCESTOR~

ELIZABETH married WILLIAM PECK on Nov. 22, 1622 in London. DEACON WILLIAM was a merchant in London. His family which included my ancestor, JEREMIAH PECK, came on the Hector, arriving in Boston on in 1637. William signed the Fundamental Agreement of Quinnipiack, was an original proprietor of New Haven, freeman in 1640, and deacon of the First Church from 1659 to his death. A portion of their homelot in New Haven was on George Street, while their shop was on the southeasterly side of and fronting on Church Street.

After the death of Elizabeth, William married Sarah, widow of William Holt. William died while visiting his son, Joseph, in Lyme.

The other children of William & Elizabeth Peck: John Peck, JOSEPH (also my ancestor) both were baptized in 1641, and Elizabeth in 1643.

William Peck (son of William Peck and Mary Pocke) was born 1601 in London, Middlesex, England 1136 (sic 1636), and died 04 Oct 1694 in New Haven, New Haven, CT. He married Elizabeth Davis on 28 Nov 1622 in London, Middlesex, England, daughter of John Davis and Anne Davis.
