DEDICATION

This Chronicle is dedicated to the memory of all the Isaac R. Imler Clan and specifically the memory of my mother, Dorthy Jewel "Imler" Dopson.

SPECIAL THANKS TO

The Pioneer Historical Library, Genealogical Section of Bedford, Pa.
The Broderbund Family Archive/Genealogical Data for Computer Systems.

Specifically, I would like to recognize the following Imler Descendants that gave of their time to provide personal family information. At this point I wish to say for the first time reader--What follows is not the work of just one person, it is the combined work of many: Walter Anderson, Susan Alkire, Richard Allen, Paul "Yogi" Barley, John & Vicki Best, Dan Betz, John & Mary Bowman, Jane E. Bernard, Cindy Imler Bevers, Carolyn & Steve & Carolyn Brooks, Mark Chilton, Aimee Church, Edith Clack, Ernest Cole, William Cooper, Linda & Barry Cyburt, Frances Kidwell Davenport, Lauren Davis, Kathy Imler DeImler, Paula Wilkison Dispenza, Sharon Doyle, Roger Duboc, Neilia Dudley, Glenna Durr, Sharon Edwards, Chris Eicher, Don Embler, Gloria Embler Nix, Joe F. Embler, Lloyd F. Embler, Paul Embler, Barbara Embler, Billy Embler, Charles Richard Embler, Barbara Leads Embler, Diana Embler, Paul W. Embler, Tracy Ernest, Sharon Ethridge, Connie Imler Feathers, Chet Feathers, Don Feathers, Mary L. Featherstone, Leah Klotz Fletcher, Donna Gardiner, Sherrain Glenn, Joyce Glover, Nancy Fisher Gouchnour, Robert Goutier, Diana Skaggs Harkins, Ruth Harkins, Carol Sue Harper, Dale Harper, Barbara Harr, LuAnn Berkheimer Hengler, Charles Henry, Darlene Athey Hill, Donna Hoekstra, Bill Hollingsworth, Kelly Joseph Horner, Kelly Horner, Ramona Householder, Dwight Hoy, Sonjia Hunt, Dorthy Grace Ickes, Durley Don Imbler, Alan L. Imler, Billy & Julia Imler, Gregory Imler, David S. Imler, Joseph Anthony Imler, Leroy Imler, Paul W. Imler, Richard L. Imler, Sam Imler, Steven & Lori Imler, Thomas C. Imler, Tom Imler, Shari Marshall Joachim, Laurie Jones, Marta Gates-Jones, Bettina Kesteloot, Robert Fred Kilgallin, Georgene Kirkpatrick, Jean Kilpatrick, Tish Klock, Vern LeCeref, Ellen Leonard, Barbara Jean Lewallen, LuAnn Lewis, Barbara & Larry Lorensen, Robin Malernee, Evelyn Makris, Loretta Mann, Nancy Ann Mayberry, Paul & Nancy Mayberry, Diane McInnes, William E. PROLOG

In the time I've been putting together this Chronicle, my mind set has gone through a change from one just collecting data into one of intense interest as though reading a really exciting and good book.

Early life in Colonial America was extremely difficult. Pennsylvania was the beginning frontier. The mountains were rugged, the forests deep and bewildering and sometimes the locals were right down unfriendly, leading to some real hair rising situations.

Mortality rate among young Imlers was 30% from newborns up to 10 years of age. From 10 to 20 years the mortality rate was 12-15 %. If the Imler reached 25 years, his/her life span was generally 75-85 years. Common child diseases such as chickenpox, measles, mumps and often the so-called common cold attributed to 85% of most childhood deaths of children less than 5 years. Life then was no picnic, other than cold winter nights, this death rate of children probably impacted on large family numbers reaching to 10-15 children born, since no one had a clue how many children would survive to adulthood.

Due to lack of eligible members of the opposite sex, marriage between 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th cousins with same last name of Imler or different last name was very common, occurring once every 10-15 marriages through the 16-1800's and even continuing in a much lesser degree into the 1930s & 40s to present. This wasn't unique with just the Imlers, it occurred in many areas of the Eastern and South Eastern part of America where families settled in remote areas and stayed put for 2-3 generations. There weren't enough young men and women of dis-associated families to go around in the rural and mountain areas. I'm convinced that out of these relationships the phrase "Kissin' Cousins" was coined. The Imlers certainly exercised this phrase to the fullest. In those cases where there are inter-marriages between blood lines I have put the following- (C)-to indicate Cousin (near or distant). In all cases at least one spouse of this individual will have a similiar (C) in their name line.

Descriptive words and phrases describing the early Imlers such as courageous, adventurers, pioneers, people of great character, faith in Jesus Christ and a sense of inter self ---comes immediately to mind when studying these people. The early Imlers made up the original groundbreakers of this country. Imlers fought in the French & Indian War. Fought and died for freedom in the Revolutionary War, fought and died in the War of 1812 against the British, fought and died on both sides in the War Between The States. Fought and died in both World War I and II, Korea and two descendants fought in all four major campaign periods in Vietnam. At least three Imler descendants went to Desert Storm and there is no doubt that when the need arises other Imlers or descendants of Imlers will represent their country again when needed. Anyone bearing the name of Imler or having the Imler blood flowing through their veins should look back on their ancestry with respect and pride, hopefully conducting their own lives in such a manner so as not to tarnish this image.

While our founding fathers were German, other than the name spelling of Immler & Imler is not. The spellings of Emler, Embler & Imbler are American originals, existing no place else. It was formed from the German name Emler, which is formed from the German word meaning Bee, or in other words a worker of Bees--- a "Bee Keeper". Many 1st and last names were changed when arriving upon America's shores. Since most of the early settlers were English, it was generally done to conform to easier English pronunciation of names or to be assimilated into the predominate English culture. Whatever the reasons, Wilhelm Immler/Imler changed his name to William Imler; Isack Marcus Immler/Imler changed his name to George Mark Imler, Johann/Johannas Immler/Imler (aka Johan Jurg Immeler) to John Embler. The first female generation to arrive on America's shores kept the spelling of their first name but changed the spelling of their last name to Imler.

IMLER NARRATIVE OF DATES AND FACTS

I probably would have never gone into Imler Genealogy if it hadn't been for Thomas C. Imler's book, "They Planted A Tree In The Wilderness".

What follows below will to some come across as a blast to his work, but it is not. When you consider that he traveled all over the country, wrote thousands of letters, visited libraries after library, maintained stacks upon stacks of hand written/typed (the old way) files, no computer/computer genealogy program to keep track of and sort his data it a wonder that he produced such an outstanding work at all. There were errors made and what follows is an attempt to correct them and follow along in his footsteps by adding to the family knowledge. Key separate issues are facts that impact on the descendants of Johann/Johannas Immler/Imler (aka Johan Jurg Immeler) to John Embler. In Thomas's book he credits William Imler's youngest son as being the one responsible with starting of what we will call the Southern Embler/Imbler Clan. This was in error, this credit belongs to John William Imbler, George Mark Imler's son.

The issue now of what happened to Johann/Johannas Immler/Imler was not discovered until a dialog was established in 2002 with Don Embler and Bettina Kesteloot. This dialog covered data concerning a family line of Emblers that mainly originated from New York, but had a Tap Root in Pennsylvania. Don Embler told me that their ancestor was Johan Jurg Immeler/Embler was born Abt. 1726 in [born Bavaria, Germany]. That he arrived in Philadelphia October 11, 1733 on the ship "Charming Betty". Well this was some claim-- Johan Jurg1 Immeler is our Johannas/Johann Immler/Imler aka John Imler and now aka John Embler. There still remained some doubt as concerns a blood link between this family line and the Descendants of William Imler. Don Embler funded the Genealogy DNA testing of male member of his Clan with a male member of George Mark Imler's Clan.

The match was there. It not only established a blood link with John Embler aka Johann Immler/Imler to William Imler, but also established credibility of relationship between George Mark Imler's Descendants and other same name personalities that arrived on the Sailing Ship Charming Betty.

THE NAMES LISTED BELOW ARE MAJOR FAMILY GROUPS THAT WERE ESTABLISHED WITHIN THE IMLER SURNAME BY 1800 AND HAVE CONTINUED TO GROW TO DATE. NAMES SEPARATED BY A "/" I.E. FEATHER/FEATHERS & WALTER/WALTERS ARE IN MOST CASES MEMBERS OF THE SAME FAMILY GROUP.

Acker, Albright, Allison, Amick, Atwell, Aungst, Baker, Barefoot, Barley, Bender, Benton, Berkey, Berkheimer, Betts/Betz, Black, Blackburn, Bouchner, Bowser, Brown, Brubaker, Brumbaugh, Burk/Burke, Burket/Burkett, Bush, Butler, Carn, Klahr/Claar/Clair, Clark, Claycomb, Colebaugh, Corle, Cox, Croft, Croyle, Davis, Deffibaugh, Deibert/Dibert, Dick, Diehl, Dively, Dodson, Earnest, Ebersole, Echard/Eckard, Eicher, Eller, Emler/Imler/Embler/Imbler, Emeigh, Feather/Feathers, Fetter, Fetterman, Fickes, Finnegan, Fisher, Fletcher, Foor/Foore, Friece/Fries, Givens, Glass, Gouchenour/Gouchnour, Goutier, Grabill/Graybill, Grove/Groves, Hainsey, Hammel, Harbaugh/Harbough, Harcelorode, Harr, Haverstock, Helsel/Heltzel, Hengst, Hershberger, Hileman, Hite, Hoenstine, Holland, Holsinger, Hoover, Hoy, Ickes, Johnson, Johnston/Johnstone, Jones, Kagarise, Kauffman, Kidwell, King, Klotz, Knisely, Koontz, Lamborn, Ling, Lingenfelter, Long, Martin, Mauk, McDonald, McMahon, Mentzer, Miller, Mock, Moore, Musselman, Nofsker, Nordyke, Oakes/Oaks, Ott, Over, Phillips, Pressell, Pringle, Puff, Reffner, Reighard, Reimer, Replogle, Rhodes, Ritchey, Rockefeller, Rogers, Roudabush, Russell, Sell, Shaffer, Shock, Shoemaker, Shoop/Shoup, Sluder, Smith, Snipes, Snoeberger/Snowberger, Snyder, Stiffler, Stine, Stornorook, Stufft, Taylor, Thomas, Thompson, Tipton, Walter/Walters, Way, Weaver, Welsh/Welch, Wentz, Wertz, Westerfield, Weyandt/Weyant/Wyant, Whetstone, White, Whysong/Wysong, Williams, Wilson, Wolf/Wolfe, Wright, Yingling, Zimmerman

THE IMLER STORY

CHAPTER-1 (Story by-lines assist in this chapter provided by Gloria Embler Nix)

Some time prior to September 27, 1732 the Immler/Imler Clan probably met in their family home in Palentein Area of Germany to discuss their family's future. Moving to America most likely had been a general topic for sometime, but now it was being considered in earnest. Since Wilhelm Immler's health was declining and his years more advanced, if for no other reason, they needed someone to spearhead this venture, find a place to settle, and arrange for the arrival of the others. The most likely person to lead this adventure was the oldest son, Isack Marcus Immler/Imler (George Mark Imler). Isack Marcus Imler embarked from Rotterdam, Holland on the Sailing Ship "Mary", sailing down the River Rotte to the Atlantic Ocean.

The ship then made a stop at Cowes, Isle of Wight, England-- -probably for final provisioning and arrived in Philadelphia, Pa. on/or about September 27, 1732. There were sixty-one Palatines, who with their families made one hundred ninety-one persons on board. The ship's passenger listing only listed adult males. There is no data to indicate that Isack Markus Immler/Imler aka George Mark Imler did not have his family on board with him. The baptismal date of Andreas Krafft Imler of Oct. 14, 1733 further supports this issue, since first Esther Theresia Schaber, George Mark's wife was not a passenger on the Charming Betty when it arrived Oct. 11, 1733, only 3 days prior to the Baptism.

After arrival in America George Mark Imler probably made arrangements for the arrival of the rest of his family on the Sailing Ship Betty- -it arrived almost one year later on Oct. 11, 1733. Arriving on the Sailing Ship Charming Betty were George Mark's father: Wilhelm Immler/Imler aka William Imler, 55 years old (b. abt. 1678), ships recording as being sick; relationship status unknown Anna Immler/Imler aka Anna Marie/Maria Immler, married, 20 (b. abt. 1713); brother, Ludwig Immler/Imler, 11 (b. abt. 1721); brother, Johan Immler/Imler, 7 (b. abt. 1726); sister, Caherina Immler/Imler, 20, (b. abt. 1713), sister, Sabina Immler/Imler, 18 (b. abt. 1715).

The ships log of the "Charming Betty" listed Wilhelm Imler as in ill health, "Sick", during the ocean passage and nothing is known documenting what happened following his arrival in Philadelphia, Pa. The word "Sick" implies more than just being Sea Sick- - -some more severe physical ailment. All three sons, George Mark Imler, Ludwig Immler/Imler and Johan (nas) Immler/Imler aka John Embler survived to lead productive lives.

On October 14 1733, Andreas Krafft Imler, son of George Mark Imler was baptized in Lancaster Co., Pa.

August 19, 1749 York Co., Pa. was formed out of Lancaster Co., Pa.

1750, George Mark Emler was issued a Warrant for land in York Co., Pa.

1752, George Mark Emler was issued a Warrant for land in York Co., Pa.

1754, Treaty of Albany-Set the stage for nearly thirty years of frontier warfare. One source about the migration from the Palatinate of Germany in the 1700's indicated that Pennsylvania gave these hale and hearty Germans land at the Western Frontier in an effort to set up a buffer zone between the Quakers vs. French and Indians. When the Germans discovered they were welcome in Maryland and Virginia and could settle on land a little closer to civilization, away from the Western Frontier Conflict, they left Pennsylvania in force. Some of these families who migrated to Maryland and Virginia during this time, later returned to Pennsylvania to claim their land.

1763, Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon start surveying Mason-Dixon Line. The survey is completed for all but 36 miles in 1767. This survey established once and for all the line between Pennsylvania and Maryland.

1766, Marks X Imlar signed a Petition to move the Court House for Baltimore Co. situate in Joppa Town, to the Town of Baltimore in Maryland- - Baltimore Co., Maryland was formed in 1659. The original County Seat was at Spesutia Island, it was next to Joppa Town. As a result of popular referendum in 1768 (there is large list of residents signing the petitions, which seems to be about the most complete list of men in the County at the time {Our Marks X Imlar was a signer}), the county seat was moved to Baltimore Town. When Baltimore was incorporated as a city in 1851, the county seat was moved to its present location in Towson, Maryland.

1768, George Peter Baum of Baltimore Co., Maryland sold to Mark Imler of Baltimore County, Maryland land in Baltimore Co., Maryland.

1770, Marks Imler paid tax to Lord Baltimore of Maryland.

1770, Mark Imler and Ester, his wife, of the Province of Maryland sold to William Imler, (Son of said Mark), land in Paradise Township, York Co., Pe

1770, Mark Imler and Esther, his wife, of Province of Maryland sold to Henry Greff land in Paradise Township, York Co., Pennsylvania.

1771, Marks Imler paid tax to Lord Baltimore of Maryland.

1771, William Imler (son of Mark Imler) and Margaret, his wife of York Co., Pennsylvania sold land purchased from his Father, Mark, in Paradise Township, York Co., Pennsylvania.

1772, William Imler was on the 1772 Rowan County, North Carolina Tax List of James Smith.

1778, Abraham Emler was listed on the Rowan County, North Carolina Vacant Land Entry.

1778, Abram Imbler, was listed in Rowan County, North Carolina as one of the (Tories) Persons permitted to take the Oath Of Allegiance.

1786, Abraham Imler and his wife, Eva have four children (approximate ages one to six) christened in York Co, Pennsylvania. (This indicates that he was away from the local church during this time.

1798, George Michael Imler (Eldest son of Marks Imler late of Baltimore County in Maryland Yeoman Deceased) of Bedford County, Pennsylvania and Cathrine Imlar, his wife in a deed confirm that Abraham Imler of Baltimore County, Maryland did purchase and pay for seventy six acres from his father, Marks Imler, and while at the same time maintaining his Father until death.

CHAPTER-2

George Mark Imler sunk his roots deep in the Maryland & Pennsylvania area and had seven children of which six-reached adulthood. Other names known by: ERRECK MENS EMLER/EMILER, JAK. MARCUS IMLER, ISACK MARCUS IMLER, MARCUS IMLER, MARK IMLER, MARKS IMLER, MARKS X IMLAR & GEORGE MARTIN IMBLER.

George Mark had three sons that lived. George Michael Imler, John William Imbler and Abraham Imler.

George Michael Imler's descendants are the most numerous now in America.

● John William Imbler is credited with having started the Southern Imbler and Embler surname spelling. Other names known by: John Embler/Emler & William Embler/Emler. The descendants of these names of Embler and Imbler are living today. One of John William Imbler's descendants, David Pater Imbler and his Clan are greatly responsible for the Imbler name being known throughout Oregon and Washington State. Several of its personalities were involved in the Indian Wars against the Nez Perce and their Chief Joseph.

Some of Abraham Imler's descendants adopted the Emler spelling of the surname, while others reverted from Emler back to Imler in naming their childr

CHAPTER-3

Ludwig Immler/Imler is listed on Ships Manifest of Charming Betty as Ludwig Imler, age 11. He was thought to have died until April of 2000.

Durley Don Imbler provided information that Ludwig had married and had at least two children of record, both daughters. Since then, in August 2004 we have had a near generation family member contact us giving us a better idea of how this down line grew.

CHAPTER-4

Johannas/Johann Immler/Imler aka John Imler aka George Imler aka George Embler was only 7 years old when he reached America. It appears his father died soon after arrival and was probably raised by his older brother, George Mark Imler. His history until just recently was clouded in mystery, myth and mistaken identity.

In Thomas C. Imler's book, "They Planted A Tree In The Wilderness", John is credited in having a family (wife and perhaps two sons) killed by Indians, traveling to Lancaster, Lancaster Co., Pa., visiting a Gunsmith and having a special double barreled rifle made. Later he was supposedly offered a substantial piece of Morrison's Cove in trade for this gun. He reply was "How Many Indians Will That Land Kill?" Later Thomas in his book, "The Kernel Of Greatness" suggests that John Imler was also the famous Indian Hunter of the time called, Captain Jack, Hunter of the Juanita and other things due to his vengeance against Indians and also owning a similar double barreled rifle. Other then in Thomas's books there has not been any other data found to support these details. For any of it to have occurred John would have had to married first when he was 16-17 years of age and been though with his Indian Vendetta by the time to court Christina and get married in

It is known that John Imler aka George Imler/Embler married August 24, 1747 Cocalico, Lancaster Co., Pa. when he was twenty-one years old to Christina/Catherina Fuss/Fussen. They remained in that area until January 21, 1750, the date their first child died and was buried. Provided by Gloria Embler Nix, S. C.: Catharina, little daughter of George Imler and Christina, born 8/23/, bap. 9/24/1748 , Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster Co., Pa., died 1/21/1750, buried 22nd of the same month, Lancaster Co., Pa. Following the death/burial of Catharina George assumed the final spelling of his last name---EMBLER. They soon move to the Montgomery, N. Y. area where they remained the rest of their life and had ten more children, founding what we will now call the Northern Embler family name.

Don Embler funded a Genealogy DNA study in 2004. Two of the male Imler Descendants that were tested were an Embler from the Descendants of Johannas/Johann Immler/Imler and on Emler from the Descendants of George Mark Imler. Considering that there were two generations difference between the two donors there was a 100% match in all discriminate areas. This not only proves the domestic history and genealogy of Johannas but it links together two personalities (Johannas Imler and George Mark Imler as brothers of a common male relative, Wilhelm Immler/Imler aka William Imler.

CHAPTER-5

Anna Immler/Imler-Now who is Anna IMLER. First note that she is listed in the WOMEN Section, of the passenger listing of the Sailing Ship Charming Betty. The ages for her and Catherina are the same, 20 years. So why is one listed as a Woman and the other is a Girl? Simple enough, the Women are married irrespective of their ages. So, Anna Imler is married or widowed and carries a name other than her maiden name.

She is seen in the April 1, 1739 baptism of John George Schreyer, b. February 24, 1739, par. John George Schreyer, sponc. John George Soldner &

Anna Marie Immler. Later she is noted in her obit: Trinity Lutheran Church Records Lancaster, Pa.: Anna Maria Immler, widow, died 1/4/1755, buried 1/5/1755.. Information was provided by Gloria Embler Nix.

So, whom was she married to; an unknown son of William's. If so did he die before embarking on the journey or while in route. If this is the case probably before embarking since his name would have been on the Ship's Passenger Listing, with a note of concerning his death as William was noted as bei

She could have decided to continue the journey with her in-laws to America; or perhaps her family was one of the other Palatine Families listed on the Charming Betty.

Or and its a big "Or", perhaps a second younger wife whom is accompanying William on his journey to the Americas? This one is up for grabs.

Thomas C. Imler, in his book thought she was the wife of George Mark Imler and gave her the name of Esther Anna. First we know that Anna was not one of the names of George's wife, Esther Teresia Schaber/Schabert.

Second, within 3 days of the Charming Betty's arrival George's son Andreas Krafft Imler is baptized. Simple math, taking account of George Mark Imler's marriage to Esther Teresia Schaber/Schabert on April 28, 1732 in Waldangelloch, Germany, with the departure of the Sailing Ship Mary and its arrival on/or about September 26, 1732 in Philadelphia, Pa. (4 1/2 months later) + the sailing time for the Charming Betty and its arrival on/or about October 12, 1733- -almost a year after the Sailing Ship Mary. Adding up all of these time periods will tell you that it would be impossible for George and Anna to be husband/wife and him to have fathered Andreas due to the family separation time period involved.

Descendants of Wilhelm Immler/Imler aka William Imler

Generation No. 1

- 1. WILHELM IMMLER/IMLER AKA WILLIAM1 IMLER was born Abt. 1678 in Germany, and died in Prob. Philadelphia, Pa.. He married UNKNOWN.

Children of WILHELM IMMLER and UNKNOWN are:

Generation No. 3

5. MARIA ESTHER³ IMLER (ISACK MARCUS IMMLER/IMLER AKA GEORGE MARK², WILHELM IMMLER/IMLER AKA WILLIAM¹) was born September 18, 1735 in Dutch Corner, Bedford Co., Pa., and died 1821 in Pennsylvania, buried in Holderbaum Farm Cemetery. Note for Catharine/Catherin Embler/Imbler:

Death date is from Enoch Burns' notes in his account book, a copy of which is in the Randolph Room, Randolph County Library. Enoch only identifies his mother (Step-Mother) by the name of Catherine.

There is a faction of Burns Descendants that identifies Catherine Imbler as being the only wife of John Burns and the mother of all of his children. This is not supported by other evidence at hand such as:

Catherine/Catharine Imbler/Embler is named in her mother's will dated March 4, 1813 as Caty Embler, still single. If this Caty Embler was a wife of John Burns, she could have only been the mother of the last two children of John

The Imbler Family at this point feel that she (Catherine "Caty" Imbler) probably is the second wife of John Byrns, father of, Enoch Burns.

All children bore to John Byrns prior to 1814 are step-children to Catherine "Caty" Imbler.
